On June 28, 2013 Fayette County Lieutenant David White was awarded the Georgia Jail Association's Detention Supervisor of the Year award. Lt. White had been employed with the Fayette County Sheriff's Office since 1999. Lt. White is responsible for a shift of detention officers and has distinguished himself by supervising a shift that continuously demonstrates low levels of mistakes and complaints. His subordinates respect him and appreciate his ability to lead by example. "As a supervisor and employee, Lt. White has always been a standout and this recognition is well deserved", said Sheriff Babb. The Georgia Jail Association exists to provide a distinct and unified voice for Georgia's jail officers.
